Project Prompt

Option 1: Buggy Skit

Pretend you are an insect. Now, act out the day in the life as "you", the insect, for your family. You need to make sure you visit food, shelter, water, and explore whatever space you have throughout your skit. You might have other insects in your colony to interact with or you might be on an individual adventure. Create a story, get props and costumes if you can, and have fun with it! And who says flies can't be funny?

Gigantuous crawleus

Option 2: Create a new insect

You can use drawings, paper mache, salt dough, or even twigs to craft your creature. It has to have three body segments and six legs, but everything else is up to your imagination. Is it camouflaged and with what is it camouflaging into? Does it have large pincers or wings? Is it 2 inches or 20 feet long? Does it even live on earth? Get wild!

You can even give it an official scientific name! Share your insect creations with us on Facebook by tagging @MajesticViewNC
